

NPW 2018: THANK YOU FOR KEEPING CANADIANS PAID

September 10, 2018 – National Payroll Week (NPW) is a week created by the Canadian Payroll Association (CPA) and is celebrated by payroll professionals across the country. NPW recognizes the accomplishments of payroll practitioners, the payroll community, and the CPA by building greater awareness of the size and scope of payroll and its impact on business, government, and the Canadian working public. NPW takes place the week of September 10-14, 2018.

Did you know that there are 13,500 certified payroll professionals in Canada? Canada's 1.5 million employers rely on payroll professionals to annually administer $929 billion in wages and taxable benefits, $310 billion in statutory remittances, and $180 billion in health and retirement benefits – all while complying with over 200 regulatory requirements!

We appreciate every payroll practitioner who works hard throughout the year to ensure Canadian employees are paid correctly and on time. Payworks staff will again celebrate alongside the payroll community by attending 19 NPW events across the country from Victoria to Halifax.

As part of NPW, the Canadian Payroll Association conducts an annual Survey of Employed Canadians that examines trends in savings, debt, and retirement planning. The survey results were released on September 5, 2018. The survey of more than 5,000 employees across the country reveals that 44% of working Canadians report it would be difficult to meet their financial obligations if their pay cheque was delayed by even a single week (down from the three-year average of 48%), highlighting the vital role that payroll practitioners play in keeping Canadians paid promptly and accurately.

2018 marks Payworks' fourth year of gold sponsorship for the NPW events. Visit the CPA website at npw-snp.ca for interesting facts and quizzes about the payroll profession, to see more results from the 2018 Survey of Employed Canadians, or to find a NPW event near you.

Follow Payworks on social media to keep in the loop with all National Payroll Week information, events, and to see photos from the NPW breakfasts we attend all week. #NPW2018
